RE: Request for Comments for Downtown Overlay District Special Permit
132 High Street, Newburyport, MA (the "Property"); Assessor's Map: 13 Lot 19.

Dear Chair and Members of the Commission;

Reference is made to the above-captioned matter. In that connection, this firm represents Patrick Reddy, Redco Construction, (the "Petitioner"), relative to the rehabilitation of a structure on the Property. The Property currently includes a six-unit structure and two offices with accompanying parking and a garage. The Property is 7,149 square feet with 65 feet of frontage on High Street. The Property is located in the R-3 and Downtown Overlay Districts.

The Property is listed as contributory on the Historic Register in the City and it was built in or around 1855-1895. The structure, formerly 126 High Street, is now on what is shown as an empty lot on the 1854 map by Henry McIntire. The structure appears on both the 1880 Newburyport Map of E.H. Bigelow and the 1894 Newburyport Map of A.F. Poole. The structure also is shown on the 1888 Sanborn Map of Newburyport. The Property was conveyed in 1854 to Charles Michael Hodge, a Newburyport pharmacist. Charles M. Hodge was born in Newburyport on September 2, 1816 to James and Martha Hodge, and died in Boston on February 6, 1894 at the house of his son-in-law Warren T. Currier. Charles M. Hodge was listed as a pharmacist (apothecary) in Newburyport in the 1852 Massachusetts Business Directory. He also served as a Common Councilor for Ward 4 from 1860-1861 and 1863-1864. His sketch of the original Court House is included in John J. Currier's History of Newburyport Massachusetts 1764-1905. Excerpts of documents supporting this historical record are attached as Exhibit A.

A full title exam for the Property was performed to 1918, and is attached hereto as Exhibit B. Ownership was traced back further through a simple chain of title from 1918 to 1854 and is attached hereto as Exhibit C. Effie T. Currier who conveyed the property in 1918 was the daughter of Charles M. Hodge who is believed to have built and lived in the structure during his lifetime. She obtained title to the structure by purchasing her sister Annie L. Hodge's interest in 1896. The house passed to the two of them from their mother Caroline A.B. Hodge who died without a will shortly after the death of her husband Charles.

The Historic Register lists the structure as Italianate; Queen Anne style. The structure has a low-pitched roof, widely overhanging eaves on the front with decorative brackets, and the front door is covered with decorative supports. The front of the house has bay windows that do not match, with those on the southerly side having decorative arches. Certain windows in the front have been altered and/or replaced and a large shed dormer is now part of the upper floor. The side and rear of the house have been extensively altered over the years, beginning with a repair and renovation in or around 1980 following fire damage to the structure. See Assessor's cards attached as Exhibit D.

The Petitioner, as part of the rehabilitation efforts proposes to replace mismatched and oddly sized windows with windows that are consistent and historically appropriate, Petitioner intends to add several windows that match the original openings. Petitioner intends to enclose two enclaves in the rear of the structure which are on both sides of a recently added stairway that does not comport with the building's original architecture. Additionally, the Petitioner proposes to remove the roofing material that is now on the structure and replace it with material that matches what would have been used historically. The existing garage on the property will be improved by removing the single roll-up garage door and replacing it with double garage doors. Finally, the Petitioner proposes to add balconies to the rear of the structure that match the historical architectural style.

The Petitioner is requesting the Historic Commission provide its comments pursuant to section XXVII-F(4)(d) of the NZO to the Planning Board concerning the proposed alterations as noted above.

The proposed alterations serve two purposes: the changes to the structure generally are being undertaken in order to expand and improve the units inside the building, reduce the number of units, and convert the building from mixed use to solely residential use. The second purpose is to restore this building in a way that provides more light and air for the occupants and returns the exterior of the building to an appearance approximating the original structure. The original details of the structure will be retained and enhanced. In particular, large wall areas without windows will have windows installed to increase the natural light that the original occupants required and enjoyed. Several window openings will be reconfigured to match the original openings. A staircase that was recently added to the rear of the building to allow ingress and egress to all three floors will become part of a continuous wall enclosing residential space instead of jutting out from the rear of the building. The existing and proposed elevations are attached as Exhibit E.

In general, the appearance of the rear of the building will be greatly improved and brought in conformity with the historical aspects of the rest of the structure. It should be noted that much of the rear is not visible from the public way. The balconies are to be designed so as not to take away so significantly from the rear elevations and to allow for greater use of the rear open space by residents. The windows in the building will be replaced with windows in the same openings will provide greater energy efficiency for the structure while retaining the historic exterior appearance of the house. The cut sheets for the replacement windows will be submitted to the Commission prior to the meeting. A specification sheet for the windows is attached. Decorative eaves matching those on the front will be carried around the house, and the roof pitch on one side will be changed to match the rest of the structure. No other changes are being proposed to the structure.

We look forward to presenting these proposed alterations to the Commission at its next meeting.

Sincerely,

Item Information

Title:

Newburyport, Mass

Description:

Incorporated as a town in 1763, Newburyport is located near the mouth of the Merrimack River. It flourished as a center for shipping, shipbuilding, and whaling during the colonial period and as a port for privateering during the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. During the 19th century, shipbuilding continued to be an important, but declining, activity with the last clipper ship launched in 1883. In the 1830s and 1840s, the towns economy became more industrialized with the establishment of four textile mills, a distillery, an iron foundry, and several other factories which produced shoes and combs. The town had a population of approximately 13,000 when this view was made. The artists observe the town as if overlooking it from the north shore of the Merrimack River, looking slightly southwest at the community and its rural hinterland. This perspective highlights the towns waterfront, suggesting its former reliance on maritime activities. Although a few ships and smaller vessel are pictured in the river, it is not the bustling seaport of former times. As the legend indicates, the view also depicts the four major textile mills (Peabody, Victoria, Bartlett, and Ocean Mills, identified with letters B-E) and the other manufacturing plants that are scattered throughout the town. The artists have also used significant vertical exaggeration to accentuate the height and importance of the industrial buildings, the churches, and other public buildings.

Charles R. Paddock, for many years one of the best known druggists in Brooklyn, died at his late residence, 287 Clermont avenue, in that city, on Wednesday, February 7. He was born in Liverpool, Onondaga County, N. Y., on April 18, 1841, and received a public school education. When quite young his parents moved to Oswego, where Charles H. Butler, a well-known druggist of the city, took a fancy to him, because of his brightness in the Sunday-school class. While with Mr. Butler he acquired a good knowledge of pharmacy, and at 21 years of age, in 1862, he enlisted with the One Hundred and Forty-seventh New York Volunteers as hospital steward and did much good service until the close of the war. In 1877 he removed to Brooklyn where he found employment in the drug store at the corner of DeKalb and Clermont avenues. In a comparatively short while he bought out his employer and prospered well. In 1887 he established a branch at the corner of Lafayette and Carleton avenues. In this venture success also attended his enterprise. He was for two terms president of the Kings County Pharmaceutical Society taking an active part in the affairs of that body. A widow and a son survive him. The funeral services were attended from his late residence on Thursday, Feb. 8. His remains were taken for burial to Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.

Charles M. Hodge, of Newburyport, Mass., died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Warren T. Currier, in Boston, on February 6, of pneumonia, after a brief illness. The deceased was born in Newburyport in 1818, received a public school and academical education, and, obtaining a thorough knowledge of drugs and chemicals, started business as a druggist in his native town, retiring a score of years ago with a handsome competency. Early in life Mr. Hodge became interested in the collection of coins, confining his attention particularly to American money in gold and silver, but in his collection he had many rare pieces. He was also a lover of the antique, and at his home on High street, Newburyport, he had many articles that were of great value; and numerous specimens of his talent with the brush. Mr. Hodge was a man of quiet tastes, a thorough student, and a most agreeable companion. He served four years in the Newburyport city council, of which he was a valued member. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

tomer grew red in the face. "By Jove!" he said, "if it isn't a skin, what in thunder is it?" "Possibly it's a hide," suggested the clerk. "That's it! That's it!" explained the man. "Have you got any black hides of something or anything?" The clerk shook his head sadly, as the man tramped up and down the store. "Got any black cowhide of anything?" he asked after a moment's thought. The clerk's face showed a gleam of intelligence and then broke into a smile. "Possibly it is black oxide of manganese you want," he said quietly. The customer almost threw his arms around the clerk's neck. "Of course, that's it," he exclaimed. "I knew there was a skin or something somewhere about the thing," and he calmed down and waited for what he wanted.

Trade Notes.

M. B. Stone, manufacturer of novelties at 430 Ninth street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is introducing "Stone's Patent Paper Julep Straws," a form of julep straw that is claimed to possess many advantages over the ordinary straw. The Patent Paper Julep Straws are made of waxed manilla paper to resemble natural straw, and are quite free from taste or odor besides being impervious to alcohol. In bringing these straws to the notice of druggists the point is made that paper straws are never "musty" and every one is sweet, clean and perfect. The straws may be ordered through any jobber or direct from the maker, M. C. Stone, 430 Ninth street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Kings County Pharmaceutical Society.

The February meeting of this society was held in its meeting room at 399 Clason avenue, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, February 13, 1894, at 2:30 P.M.

A paper was presented on The Preparations of the New Pharmacopoeia, by W. P. DeForest. This was discussed by Dr. J. F. Golding, Messrs. William Muir, F. H. Pamphilon and F. N. Bliss. A discussion on How May We Make the Best Citrate of Magnesia was opened by W. B. Averre, and the matter discussed by L. T. Perkins, O. A. A. Ronillion, D. L. Cameron, L. F. Stevens and John Pfeiffer. The Telephone System in Brooklyn was also discussed. Members of the society and all interested in pharmacy are urged to attend, take part, and help make these occasions both interesting and profitable

A Profitable Investment.

The majority of prosperous druggists have an accumulation of money from time to time which they feel justified in withdrawing from their business and investing elsewhere. These amounts vary from several hundred to several thousand dollars, and there is often a serious question as to how this money can be invested so as to be safe and still yield the best returns.

All those seeking an opportunity for such investment should write to the Columbian Pharmacal Co., 20 Cedar street, New York City, for a prospectus of the bonds which they are issuing on their handsome and substantial properties in Versailles, Conn. When writing them please mention this journal.

Good Value.

In these days of fierce competition when dealers find it difficult to make profits they must constantly be on the lookout for items of the best possible value. Such an item is the "Good Value" cigar, which embodies an effort by the manufacturer to furnish as good a cigar for $20 per thousand as is usually sold for $35. They are clean, sweet, country made, from pure Spanish seed tobacco, containing scarcely any nicotine, smoke free, burn white, and are made and packed on the principle of "Nothing for Style—Everything for Quality." They are packed in rough boxes containing 250 for $5, but if desired can be had in boxes of 50 for $1.10.

They are sold only for net cash at the "Good Value" Cigar Agency, 148 Chambers street, New York City. Five sample cigars will be sent on receipt of 10 cents in stamps.

A New Version of the Beef, Wine and Iron Yarn.

The man was in a brown study when he went into the drug store. "What can we do for you?" inquired the clerk. "I want black something of something," he said. "Have you got any?" "Probably we have," replied the clerk. "but you'll have to be more definite to get it." The customer thought for a moment. "Got any black sheepskin of something?" he asked. "No; we don't keep sheepskins. We have chamois skins, though." "That isn't it, I know," said the customer. "Got any other kind of skins?" "No." "Skins, skins, skins," repeated the man struggling with his slippery memory. "Calfskin seems to be something like it. Got any black calfskin of anything?" "No, not a one," and the clerk laughed. The cus-

(c) The net income of the trust is to be used for the education of the Donor's nephews and nieces and for the education of their children. The trustee or trustees may accumulate income, but shall have no power to expend principal. It is the wish of the Donor that a few nephews and nieces receive a good education rather than have a large number receive small amounts each.

(d) This trust shall terminate when the youngest living niece, nephew, grandniece or grandnephew of the Donor shall attain the age of 20 years, or shall sooner terminate 20 years after the death of the survivor of the Donor, the Donor's wife, the Donor's nieces and nephews and their children who are living at the death of the Donor, and the trust property then remaining is to go to the nieces and nephews of the Donor and their issue, per stirps.

THIRD: The provisions set forth in the form entitled Schedule A attached hereto are hereby made a part of this Declaration of Trust as fully as though set forth at length herein, except as and to the extent, if any, herein expressly modified, limited, or cancelled.

FOURTH: Any vacancy in the Trusteeship may be filled by the Donor during his lifetime and subject to such power; such vacancy may be filled by any court of proper jurisdiction. Except in the case of appointment by court, any appointment of a succeeding Trustee shall be in writing duly signed, and acknowledged before a notary public. Anyone dealing with the trust may always rely upon such a writing recorded with Essex South District Deeds as to the identity of the current trustees and conclusively presume that any documents by the trustees or a majority of them is binding upon the Trust.

FIFTH: Upon the death or incapacity of the said ARTHUR J. HEWETT, the Donor's brother, EDWARD A. HEWETT, and his sisters, MARY ELLEN McLEOD and JULIE A. COLE, are to be successor trustees hereunder. In the event of the resignation, incapacity or death of any of the successor trustees, the vacancy is to be filled by one of the children of said deceased trustee, the selection to be made by a majority of the children of said trustee. It is my wish that after my death there shall be three trustees, and a majority of the three shall have the power to make final decisions and exercise all of the powers of the trustees under this Declaration of Trust. In the event that there should be any dispute among the trustees which cannot be resolved by a majority of the trustees, than it is to be resolved by one Arbitrator and his decision will be final and binding.

SIXTH: The Trustee is to receive no compensation and is to have no liability for negligence but only for willful acts of misappropriation.

SEVENTH: It is the desire of the Donor that the Trust be kept intact upon his death and, therefor, the trustees are empowered to mortgage the trust property in order to pay estate taxes and any other expenses relating to the trust occasioned by the death of the Donor.

EIGHTH: The Donor reserves the power, at any time or from time to time, to alter, amend or revoke, in whole or in part, the terms and provisions of this Declaration of Trust and the trusts hereby created, by an instrument in writing signed by him, acknowledged before a notary public, and delivered to the Trustee during his lifetime. In the event that the Donor shall revoke this trust, the Trustee shall transfer and pay over the trust property, or the portion thereof to which said revocation is applicable, to the Donor or as he may direct in writing.

NINTH: This trust shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and its validity and administration shall be governed by the laws of some other jurisdiction.

SCHEDULE A.

The provisions of this Schedule form a part of the Declaration of Trust to which it is attached as fully as though set forth at length in such Declaration, except as and to the extent, if any, therein expressly modified, limited, or canceled and such provisions shall apply notwithstanding termination until the trust property is fully distributed. Reference in this Schedule A. and in said Declaration of Trust to the masculine includes the feminine where appropriate and reference to the Trustee means the Trustee or Trustees duly appointed and acting thereunder whether original or substitute.

FIRST: The Trustee shall have, in addition to those conferred by law or otherwise, the following discretionary powers, privileges, and exemptions:

- (a) To administer, invest, and reinvest the trust fund in any property, including real and personal property, stocks, bonds, and other securities, investment companies and common trust funds (without the necessity of notice to beneficiaries), in any state or jurisdiction, and whether or not of a kind or in a proportion ordinarily considered suitable for trust investments. To make secured or unsecured loans and, with respect to mortgages and other security held by the trust, to modify the terms thereof, to release partially, to foreclose and to purchase at foreclosure sales. To permit all or any part of the trust property to be held in the custody of a banking institution or brokerage house.
- (b) To participate in any reorganization, recapitalization, merger or similar transaction; to give proxies or powers of attorney with or without power of substitution for voting upon any shares or certificates of interest belonging to the trust.
- (c) To manage real property in such manner as the Trustee shall deem best, including authority to erect, alter, or demolish buildings, to improve, repair, lease, subdivide and vacate any of said property; to adjust boundaries, to dedicate streets or other ways for public use without compensation; to impose such easements, restrictions, conditions, stipulations and covenants as the Trustee may see fit; to lease for such terms and on such terms as the Trustee deems advisable and whether or not the lease may extend beyond the term of the trust.
- (d) To sell at public or private sale, and to exchange or partition all or any part of the property held by the trust, without order or license from any court, and to execute any and all deeds and other instruments necessary or appropriate therefor, with or without covenants, warranties and representations.
- (e) To borrow money from others upon such terms and conditions as the Trustee deems advisable and to mortgage and pledge trust assets as security for the same and thereof.
- (f) To carry stock certificates and other property of the trust in the name of a nominee or in the name of a nominee or any person, individually or in any other form, without disclosing the existence of any trust.
- (g) To hold separate trusts or any share of a trust in one or more counties or jurisdictions in which the separate trusts or shares shall have undivided interests. On any division or distribution of the trust property, to make the same in cash or in kind or partly in each at such values as the Trustee determines to be reasonable.
- (h) To make any payment or distribution directly to any competent beneficiary and if said beneficiary is not competent, to his guardian or conservator or to apply the same for his benefit and in the case of a minor, to deposit the same in a savings bank in his name or to invest the same in a custodianship or trust for his benefit.

(i) To determine in accordance with reasonable accounting practice what shall belong and be chargeable to principal and what shall belong and be chargeable to income, and in making that determination the Trustee may employ an accountant or attorney-at-law and rely upon his opinion; provided, however, that all capital gains distributions from investment companies shall be treated as principal. To amortize or to refrain from amortizing premiums on securities purchased at more than par.

(j) To retain such reserves out of income as the Trustee deems proper for expenses, taxes, depreciation and other liabilities of the trust.

(k) To settle by compromise or arbitration or otherwise any and all claims and demands in favor of or against or in any way relating to the trust property upon such terms as the Trustee deems advisable.

(l) To hold life insurance policies without any obligation for the payment of premiums or any obligation to take any action towards the collection of the proceeds unless indemnified against loss or expense occasioned thereby. No insurance company need see to the application of any amount paid by it to the Trustee and a receipt by the Trustee shall be a full discharge of the insurance company with respect to such payment.

It is the Donor's intention to give the Trustee wide discretion in matters of management of the trust property and the foregoing enumeration of powers is not intended to exclude other powers reasonably incidental to such management.

SECOND: No person to whom any interest is given, whether in income or principal, shall have power to anticipate, alienate, dispose of or encumber such interest or income by anticipation or to subject the same to his debts or liabilities, and no such interest or income shall be liable for his debts or liabilities.

THIRD: Any interest in the trust property may be disclaimed in whole or in part by an instrument in writing signed by the beneficiary thereof and delivered to the Trustee, and in such event the interest so disclaimed shall be disposed of as though said beneficiary were not living.

FOURTH: Any Trustee may at any time resign as Trustee or disclaim or release any power in whole or in part by an instrument in writing, duly signed, acknowledged before a notary public and delivered to any Co-Trustee, and if none, to my beneficiary. Said disclaimer or release may be for such period of time as such Trustee may specify without in any way affecting the continuance of the power in any other Trustee.

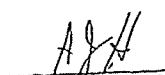

FIFTH: At any time during which there is more than one Trustee, a Trustee may from time to time delegate in writing the power to sign checks and the custody of the trust fund to a Co-Trustee for such period or periods of time as he may determine, and other powers and discretions may be delegated for periods not exceeding one year at a time; provided, however, that any powers or discretions withheld from any Trustee by the terms of this Declaration of Trust shall not be delegated to such Trustee under this Article.

SIXTH: Pending the qualification of any Successor Trustee, the Trustee then in office shall have all the powers, discretions and exemptions given to the Trustees.

SEVENTH: No Trustee shall be required to give bond or furnish surety on any bond required by law.

EIGHTH: No Trustee shall be liable for, nor unless requested in writing by a beneficiary shall be obliged to inquire into, the acts or omissions of any Co-Trustee, or any person administering the Donor's estate.

NINTH: If this Declaration of Trust is recorded in a Registry of Deeds, any amendment, revocation, resignation, appointment, acceptance of trust, or other instrument may, but need not, be recorded in said Registry.

TENTH: A written statement of any Trustee at any time as to any facts relative to the trust may always be relied upon and shall always be conclusive evidence in favor of any transfer agent and any other person dealing in good faith with the Trustee in reliance upon such statement.

ELEVENTH: The Trustee shall render accounts of the administration of the trust annually, except no such account shall be required during the Donor's lifetime unless requested in writing by him or by his guardian or conservator. The assent by all the persons who, for the period of any account, were entitled or eligible to receive the income of the trust and on the last day of the accounting would have been entitled to receive the principal of the trust if it had then terminated and who were of full age and legal capacity (but if under guardianship or conservatorship, then by his guardian or conservator, or if deceased, by his Executor or Administrator), shall make such account, in the absence of fraud or manifest error, binding and conclusive upon all persons then having or who may thereafter have any interest, vested or contingent, in the income or principal of the trust estate. The failure of any such person to object to any such account by a writing mailed to the Trustee within sixty days of the receipt of a copy of the account shall be deemed to be an assent by such person.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, EDWARD A HEWETT of Newburyport, Essex County, Massachusetts, state that this is my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all previous Wills and Codicils made by me.

1. Executor. I appoint my daughter Ellen Marie Hewett as Executor and Temporary Executor of this Will and my son Edward A Hewett, Jr as substitute therein. Neither shall have to give surety on his or her bond.
2. Executor's Powers. In order that my Executor may expeditiously administer and carry out the provisions of my Will, I grant her full power to sell and all those Statutory Optional Fiduciary Powers pursuant to Chapter 184B, Section 2, Massachusetts General Laws.
3. Personal Property. I give and bequeath to my Executor, in trust, all my tangible personal property, to be sold and the proceeds added to my residuary estate, or to be distributed among my issue, family and friends, or a combination of the two, as my Executor may deem appropriate. I may leave a memorandum stating my wishes with respect to disposition of certain of these articles of tangible personal property, but such memorandum will be simply an expression of my wishes and shall not create any obligation nor shall it be offered for probate as a part of this Will.
4. Jointly Held Property. I confirm my intention that my interest in all personal property, tangible or intangible, which is registered or held at the time of my death jointly in the names of myself and any other person or organization as joint tenants, shall pass by survivorship or operation of law and outside the terms of this Will to such other person, if he survives me, or to such organization or its successor in interest. To the extent that my intention may be defeated by any rules of law, I bequeath my interest in all such property to such other person or organization or its successor in interest.

5. Omitted Heir. I have in mind my son Arthur Thomas Hewett, but having sufficiently provided for him in the past, I hereby bequeath him the sum of one dollar.

6. Remaining Estate. All the rest, residue and remainder of my property, whether real, personal or mixed, of whatever character and wherever situate, of which I may die seized or possessed or in any manner entitled, I give, devise and bequeath to my surviving children other than Arthur Thomas Hewett in equal shares, and should a child predecease me, his share shall go to his children in equal shares..

7. Spendthrift Provision.
